Bay St. Louis - Waveland - Pass Christian - Long Beach

by Marleen Maher
Echo News Editor

In separate motions Wednesday morning the Bay St. Louis commission council accepted the resignation of Chief of Police Robert Goodsell and terminated the services of Fire Chief Floyd Page.

WM. CARBONETTE

William Carbonette was named to replace Goodsell, and Richard Fayard was appointed acting fire chief.

At the request of Mayor Carver, Goodsell presented his resignation Wednesday morning but asked the council to tell him "the real reason behind it." Carver answered, "In the past I have asked you to do things you haven't done and you don't follow through on things." Carver also said that there was trouble among the members of the police department, caused by Goodsell.

The former police chief then asked Carver "can you truthfully say that you've tried to help me in the past three years?" The Mayor replied, "Yes, I think I have. It is not my duty to bring harmony to your department."

Former Chief Floyd Page was not present at the meeting.

Board Accepts Bids For Sale Of Equipment

County supervisors opened bids Monday morning for the sale of certain items of used county equipment as well as bids for the purchase of other needed equipment for the county.

Oliver Sahuque offered the highest bid of $306.97 for a tractor, J. C. Willis' bid of $2,000 was accepted for a D-6 bulldozer, and Clayton Brunson purchased an International payloader for $2,505. Supervisors accepted a bid from Strubling-Puckett, Inc. for $39,922.25 for a 920 Caterpillar end loader for beat three. Another bid from the same company for $31,654.70 for a motor grader was accepted for beat one.

In the same bid package, Strubling-Puckett purchased a used motor grader from beat one for the price of $1,000.

International Business Machines Co. submitted the only bid price of $567 for a selectric typewriter, which the county is planning to purchase four of for various departments. Bids were also accepted by the board for the purchase of two Monroe calculators to be used in the tax assessor's office, at a price of $498.50 each. Wallace Bros. Business Machines Co. bid of $382.70 each for two automatic printing calculators was also accepted for use in the chancery clerk's office.

The above purchases are to be funded through Governor's Emergency Council money appropriated to the county for hurricane relief and earmarked for restoration of furniture, equipment and records vaults. In another matter, Dolph Kellar informed the board that State Aid Road Division engineer Frank Moore had that morning accepted another bonding company for Breland Trucking and Construction Co., and that county engineer Larry Seal had been authorized to issue Breland a proceed order for the beach road.

On the recommendation of architect Fred Wagner, the board accepted the plan for Mrs. Seal, 79, was born in Pearl River and raised there and in Logtown.

Active in many civic affairs, Mrs. Seal was one of the founders of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club and on two occasions served as its president.

She also served as President of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs and was an ardent supporter of the annual Spring Pilgrimage on the Coast.

Mrs. Seal helped organize and was a charter member and past President of the Hancock County Hospital Ladies Auxiliary.

She served as chairman of the Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross and was also active in the Red Cross Gray Ladies work.

She was a past president of the Bay Central School PTA.

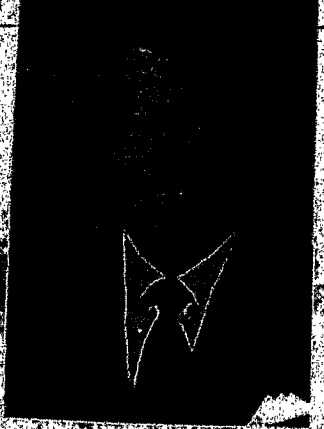

Mrs. Seal was a member of the Bay St. Louis Main Street Methodist Church and active in the morning circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of which she is a past chairman.

On two different occasions Mrs. Seal was presented "Good Citizenship Awards" by the Joe Graham Post of the American Legion and in 1971 received special recognition from the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre for continuous support and loyalty to the theatre over the past twenty-five years.

She was a member of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, the Pass Christian Golf Club and the Metropolitan Dinner Club.

Survivors are a son Leo W. Seal, Jr. and a daughter Virginia (Mrs. Fred) Wagner both of Bay St. Louis and a sister Mrs. O. E. Schupp of New Orleans and two grandchildren.

Bay To Upgrade Fire Department

Complaints about the Bay St. Louis Fire Department were voiced by a handful of local citizens at Monday night's Bay council meeting.

In answer to the demands for improvements, Mayor Warren Carver announced that the Pass Christian Fire Department would assist local regular and volunteer firemen in upgrading the department.

Carver revealed that Chief Mixon and Fireman Bates of the Pass fire department had agreed to conduct monthly drills for members of both the regular and volunteer departments beginning in April. Also under Carver's direction, a campaign to recruit volunteers will begin immediately.

In other council action, a motion to increase the city's contribution to the Chamber of Commerce filed for lack of a quorum.

SOCIETY MEETING
Society of Our Lady of St. Clare's Parish will hold its monthly meeting at 2 p.m., March 28, in Costello Hall. All members are asked to attend.

Jaycees Plan Honey Sale

Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver has proclaimed March 28 as Honey Sunday for the Bay St. Louis area, in cooperation with the local Jaycees.

Jaycees throughout the state will be participating in the Honey Sunday project for the benefit of the Jaycees Evaluation Center, Ellisville State School.

On that date, Jaycees will be selling eight-ounce containers of honey at all local shopping centers and all net proceeds from the honey sales will go toward funding the Evaluation Center for the mentally retarded in Ellisville.

Albert Bleil III is local chairman of the project. Local Jaycees president Louis J. Necaise said, "Buying the honey is a way to express our concern for the thousands of mentally ill and mentally retarded children in Mississippi who cannot speak for themselves."

Lumberton Man Drowns In River

The body of a Lumberton man was recovered from Jourdan River Tuesday night near the spot where he and a companion, also believed to have drowned, were fishing.

The body of James E. Mammel Dubose, 49, was recovered about 7 p.m. Tuesday by Hancock County Civil Defense Director Lucien Kidd, County Special Agent Ronald Peterson and Whitney Carvin who were dragging the river by boat.

Dubose had been accompanied by his cousin, Wesley Pagle, 55, of Bay St. Louis when the two men arrived at the river Monday afternoon.

Untouched food and camping gear was found near the river's edge. Dubose was wearing a light-colored shirt and dark trousers. Pagle was wearing a light-colored shirt and dark trousers.

Echo Staff Members Win Press Awards

Sea Coast Echo news editor Marleen Maher and staff writer Adoree Shortle were recipients of three awards in the 1972 Mississippi Press Women's Contest Friday in Jackson.

Award presentations were made at a banquet attended by press women from throughout the state as well as special guests Governor and Mrs. William Waller and Mrs. Naomi Whitehall of Indianapolis, Ind., first vice-president of the National Federation of Press Women.

First place honors in the page makeup category for weekly newspapers with 2,001-5,000 circulation went to the Echo. Mrs. Shortle was awarded second place for special articles on other subjects, and third place for display advertising.

Joe D. Smith of the Alexandria, La. Town Talk was banquet speaker. Mrs. Carol B. Perry of the Meridian Star as contest chairman presented the awards to the contest winners.

Reflections

COUNTY SUPERVISOR H. (Bully) Zengering is pictured with the prize calf which was killed Thursday night on his farm in the Bayou La Loutre area. The entire midsection of the calf was consumed by the unknown assailant, which left a large, deep paw print near the calf. Zengering is mystified by the print as he said it is not like that of any other animal known in these parts.

Search Underway For Animal Killer

An apparently large and vicious animal killed and consumed most of a newborn calf, on county supervisor H. Bully Zengering's farm sometime Thursday night, then returned Saturday to carry off a portion of the remainder.

Zengering discovered the incident Friday morning when he went to the farm, located off Highway 90 in the Bayou La Loutre area. He found the partly consumed body of the 70-pound calf lying about 15 feet from the spot where it had been born. Zengering is particularly concerned by the incident, he said, as there have been several similar incidents lately in the same area, in which sheep, lambs and other livestock have been killed obviously by a large predatory animal.

The manner in which the calf was killed and consumed and a large paw print by the body rules out the assumption that the predator is a dog, fox or wolf, Zengering added.

About 25 pounds of the calf were eaten initially, including the bones and hide. Saturday night the entire hindquarter was carried away without a trace. Zengering has the paw print at his home where he is conferring with the Game and Wildlife Warden, sheriff and other officials to determine what species of animal he is dealing with.

His main concern, he said, is not only the danger to animals on neighboring properties but youngsters who frequently fish or camp in the wooded sections surrounding Zengering's farm.

Traps have been set and Zengering said he will continue a hunt for the animal in a protective effort for the community.

MELVIN YOUNG of Bay St. Louis submitted this picture of the Bay St. Louis municipal pier that was located at the end of Ulman Ave. Things look a little different today (Readers are urged to submit photos to the Echo for use in Reflections. Use of all photographs is left to the discretion of the editor).

"MISSION: THEOLOGY For Our Times" was the title of the two-week course recently given by Reverend Lawrence Nemer, S.V.D., to the 16 novices at St. Augustine's Seminary.

Contractor, union and minority representatives in 41 areas across the country have developed voluntary agreement known as "hometown" plans to widen minority opportunities in construction crafts. These agreements have been approved by the Labor Department.

Board Rejects Trailer Bids

Bids for various items of equipment and construction work were opened at a meeting Tuesday by the Hancock General Hospital Board of Trustees.

Two bids received for the purchase and installation of an air conditioning system for the physicians trailer were opened and rejected by the board, as neither conformed to advertised specifications.

A motion was passed to disallow both bids and re-advertise for additional bids.

Only one bid was received from the Bay Awning Company of Bay St. Louis for the construction of a canopy extending from the trailer to the corner of the back wing of the hospital. The bid for $505 for labor and materials was accepted by the board.

Only two companies submitted bids for a frozen food cabinet for the hospital kitchen. Apparent low bidder was St. Cyr Equipment Co. of New Orleans, whose bid price of $1,248.50 for a 47.2 cubic foot freezer was accepted. The board also approved an additional expenditure of $25 for a one-year service contract on the freezer with St. Cyr. The service contract provides parts and labor for the 12-month period, in addition to the warranty.

The other company bidding was Hub Refrigeration and Fixture Co. of Hattiesburg, with a price of $1,709 for a 51.6 cubic foot freezer.

In another matter, Hospital administrator H.J. Blackledge told board members of a newly instigated program at the hospital termed Staff Development Days. The program is designed to indoctrinate and inform all staffers with every facet of hospital and medical services. A particular program is presented to one-third of the staff one day a week for three weeks, affording an opportunity for all members to attend. Various members of the hospital and medical staff participate in the educational program as well as guest lecturers.

Mrs. Mona Santiago, assistant administrator, presented a report on a pilot program for visitor control. Mrs. Santiago said that the hospital's Pink Lady organization had offered volunteer services of its members to control unauthorized visiting in rooms during morning hours, when visitors are not allowed. The board was agreeable to implementing the program on a trial basis.

POLICE REPORTS

SHERIFF'S REPORTS
Hancock County Sheriff Bryan Ladner said that two Waveland women were apparently forced out of close to $200 by two black men with a money making scheme. Mrs. Rose Marie Thompson and Mrs. Ella Thomas told Deputy Sheriff Fairley Nacales that the two men accosted them on the street in Bay St. Louis, saying that they had found money and were on their way to the Post Office to "have it changed." The men said that any money the women could produce that matched the bills in the envelope would be given to them. Mrs. Thompson with $140, which the two men took away in the Post Office. They were returned Nacales and Special Agent Ronald Peterson are looking for the two men fitting the following description: One was about six feet tall, with a mustache and dark hair, wearing a yellow shirt and plaid trousers. The other was short and had "rotten teeth in front," according to the victims. Sheriff Ladner has issued a warning to residents to beware of any persons fitting these descriptions, and anyone reporting similar get-rich-quick schemes.

Ceremony Unites Miss Smith, Mr. Nybo

The First Baptist Church of Gulfport, Mississippi, was the setting March 4, 1972, for the wedding of Miss Kathleen Smith and Stephen Alan Nybo. Dr. John H. Traylor, Pastor of the Church, officiated at the two o'clock ceremony.

Miss Smith, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lamar Smith, Gulfport, is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Dolph Land of Philadelphia, Mississippi, and of Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Putnam Smith of Montrose, Mississippi. Mr. Nybo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lelun Warren Nybo, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Loflin, Sr. of Vicksburg, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Nybo of Tracy, Minnesota.

Mr. Donnie Saucier, organist, and Miss Deborah Wood, Vocalist, furnished traditional wedding music. The Handbell Choir of the First Baptist Church, accompanied by Mr. Saucier, played "Whither Thou Goest" as the bride and groom lighted the Unity Candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an heirloom dress originally worn by her paternal grandmother. The formal wedding gown of handmade cotton lace and embroidery was designed in the Victorian style with a scalloped hemline, short scalloped sleeves, and a matching bolero. Her cathedral length veil of misty illusion was attached to a band of cotton lace accented by pearls. Her opal jewelry was a gift from the groom. She carried a nosegay of white tulips, daisies, and gypsophelia.

Maid of Honor was Miss Mary Smith of State College, Mississippi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Smith, Gulfport. Matron of Honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Sidney Lamar Smith, Jr., Gulfport. Mrs. Smith, the daughter of Mrs. Penitress Jay of Corinth, is the former Jane Lyle Ray.

Bridesmaids were Miss Cheryl Nybo, sister of the groom, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Bobby Welborn, cousin of the bride, Soso, Mississippi; Mrs. Henry Strahan, Decatur, Alabama; and Miss Anne McGhee of Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Their identical floor-length gowns of yellow tulle were fashioned along Victorian lines and accented by wide ruffles at the hem. Insets of cotton lace were featured at the neckline, waistline, and on the short sleeves. Their wide brimmed hats were trimmed with yellow grosgrain bands and streamers. They carried white wicker garden baskets filled with daisies, corn flowers, calendula, gypsophelia, and fern.

Little Miss Christina Davidson, cousin of the bride, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davidson, Mobile, Alabama, was the flower girl. Her dress was identical to the bridesmaids' dresses and she carried a small basket of daisies. Daisies and yellow ribbon streamers were entwined in her hair.

Master Sidney Lamar Smith, III, nephew of the bride, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, Jr., was ringbearer. He was attired in white linen and carried the traditional satin and lace pillow.

Mr. Lelun Warren Nybo performed the duties of best man for his son. Greeters were Mr. Lelun Nybo, Jr., brother of the groom, Mr. Sidney Lamar Smith, Jr., brother of the bride, Mr. Randy Smith, cousin of the bride, Mr. William Russell Loflin, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Bobby Williams.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Smith wore an Ibis Clark of Dallas original of soft blue silk and worsted. The A-line dress was complemented by a matching fitted coat with self-covered buttons from neck to hemline. She wore matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Nybo selected a lavender wool knit featuring a cowl neckline, long sleeves, and cummerbund. She chose accessories in a deeper shade of lavender and wore a pale green orchid corsage.

Mrs. Smith, paternal grandmother of the bride, wore an indigo polyester knit with matching jacket and a white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception in Fellowship Hall of the church. A memory candle, surrounded with fern and white lovebirds, was placed on the register table where guests were registered by Miss Valerie Nybo, sister of the groom.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over yellow linen and centered with a four tiered wedding cake. A nosegay of yellow and white daisies adorned the top of the cake. Yellow fruit punch was served from crystal punchbowl at each end of the table and two fivebranched sterling candelabra with white tapered shades adorned with yellow streamers and daisies completed the appointments. Antique wicker baskets with arrangements of spring flowers were placed in the reception room.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a yellow linen cloth and featured a pale chocolate groom's cake. The table was adorned with fresh seasonal flowers and candles. Assisting with the reception were Miss Carol Corbett and Miss Susan Fortenberry of Meridian, Mississippi; Miss Nancy Nail, McComb; Miss Beth Bouman, Summit; and Miss Suzanne Velverton and Mrs. Billy Luke of Gulfport.

For traveling the bride wore a muted floral print in the colors of yellow, orange, and tangerine with a matching sleeveless coat. Her accessories featured a white crocheted hat and gloves. After a wedding trip to New Orleans and points along the Gulf Coast, the couple will make their home in Hattiesburg, Mississippi where they are both seniors at University of Southern Mississippi.

On the eve of the wedding a rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Lelun Nybo at the Ramada Inn in Long Beach, Mississippi.

A bridesmaids brunch was held on the day of the wedding at the Boradwater Beach Hotel in Biloxi, Mississippi with Mrs. Wayne Freeman, Mrs. Hugh Anderson, and Mrs. Sidney Smith, Jr. as hostesses.

Market Displaying Batik Primitives

Nine most unusual original batik primitives from Kenya have been received by the Waveland Senior citizens' center.

The batik, a traditional method of coloring cloth, is displayed in the market located on Highway 90, just west of the Waveland Avenue entrance to the beach.

In view of the fact that the batik is a primitive art, it was decided not to offer any of them for immediate sale but to place them on exhibit so that art dealers, collectors and art lovers would at least have a chance to view this native art.

Sealed bids will be accepted over a four week period and then will be opened on the fifth week and these originals will go to the highest bidder.

According to the World Book this is how they describe a batik.

"Batik is a method of applying colored designs to fabrics. The word and the method come from Java. A design is made on the fabric, and those sections which are not to be dyed are covered with a substance that will not absorb the dye. Liquid wax, paraffin, or rice paste is used for this purpose. When the fabric is dipped into the dye, the wax can be removed by boiling the cloth. "Designs are made of one color or two colors by covering dyed parts that are not to be dyed, and dipping the cloth into the dye again. The process can be repeated as often as necessary to get new shades or to apply a different color. The pattern on the back of the cloth is less distinct than that on the front.

"Many batik designs show thin, irregular lines. This effect results when the wax chips or breaks and lets the dye penetrate the breaks. In Java, the design is determined by the use of the cloth will have. It might be for a head scarf, a sash, or sarong, or a loin cloth."

How the method reached Kenya is not explained. In Kenya, however, the system is used by artists and the batiks received from that country depict various animals that are native to Kenya, and one native warrior.

The Thieves Market is open to the public from 10 to 6 p. m. every Friday, Saturday and Sunday.
